Better is the poor that walketh in his integrity, than he that is perverse in his lips, and is a fool.

Proverbs 19:1 (KJV)

How many fingers have you walked on to climb that corporate ladder? What have you sacrificed in order to get ahead in life? Family? Friends? Your health?

Integrity is so much better than wealth, but many people can't, or just refuse, to see that. The gain of material objects is their goal, and they are willing to pay anything to have it – cheating on their taxes, stealing from a store or an employer, not willing to give when you can.

But the Bible tells us differently. Being poor and honest is better than being rich and dishonest. It is such a little price to pay for our integrity.

What changes do you need to make in order to get your priorities in shape?
